Targets

Each tier also has a corresponding 'target'. These targets refer to the population level prevention and education is most often aimed at, and carried out with.

- Universal – the target is the whole population.
- Selective – targets subsets of the population identified as having a higher than average risk of developing alcohol or drug problems.
- Indicated – targets those whose current alcohol or drug use puts them at significant risk of becoming dependent or experiencing other serious problems.
- Environmental – targets community structures, spaces and places. This target cuts across all of the tiers
