Cyber Crime: Recognising the signs

Cyber-crime and the Threat Actors who deploy it, continue to use ever more elaborate ways of stealing both your personal and your organisation's information.

What is Spear Phishing?

Spear Phishing is a form of social engineering where a scammer will target specific individuals or a group of individuals within an organisation. Spear Phishing can be harder to identify than traditional Phishing attempts because it can originate from trusted email addresses, these trusted email address may themselves have been compromised leading to targeted emails to individuals or groups.

Although most Spear Phishing attacks are designed to defraud the target for monetary gain, there have been instances where it has been used to reveal sensitive information or inject malicious software.

Top things to look out for:

- Emails asking for financial transfers and referring to senior staff, for example, an email asking for a money transfer to the Director of Finance
- Emails with an unfamiliar greeting or salutation
- Inconsistencies in email addresses, links and domain names
- Suspicious attachments
- Emails asking for money transfers via systems like Western Union or asking you to buy prepaid cards and provide serial numbers
- Emails or calls requesting login credentials, payment information or sensitive data.

What you should do

It's easy to assume the messages arriving in your inbox or calls you receive are legitimate, particularly when they are from trusted senders. The best form of defence is to recognise communications which are out of the ordinary and ask you to take actions which you wouldn't normally expect. If you have any doubt about the authenticity of an email, do not respond to the sender and confirm the content of the email via an alternative route, for example, via text message or phone call.

Reporting suspicious content

It's important to remember never to click on any links or open any emails which look even remotely suspicious.

If you suspect you have received anything to your work email address containing malicious content you can report it to: spam@ggc.scot.nhs.uk.

Update from the Area Partnership Forum

The Area Partnership Forum (APF) provides staff, through their trade unions and professional organisations, with a forum to engage formally with NHSGGC as an employer. This ensures staff views can be raised and can influence the work of our health board. This is a key way in which the voice of our staff influences the way we work.

The APF operates jointly with senior leader representation from NHSGGC and staff side representatives from our recognised trade unions and professional organisations, who, together, work in partnership to the benefit of our staff and our patients. Once a month, the APF focusses on NHSGGC workforce issues.

These APF sessions are co-chaired by Interim Director of Human Resources and Organisational Development, Natalie Smith and Employee Director, Ann Cameron-Burns.

The most recent Area Partnership Forum Workforce meeting took place on Wednesday 23 April 2025. A number of important matters were discussed at the Forum and the following is an overview for staff of the three key highlights:

Band 5 Nursing Review

The APF welcomed progress regarding the Band 5 Nursing review which has now seen more than 1,400 applications, with over 75 now fully reviewed and the outcomes communicated. Applications will now be reviewed on a regular basis and applicants will be kept up to date on progress.

Any current Band 5 nurse who wishes apply, is still able to do so and can find more information here.

PVG Update

The APF was presented with an update plans to support the expansion of the PVG Scheme. The PVG scheme helps ensure people working with vulnerable groups (protected adults and/or children) don't have a known history of harmful behaviour. The changes are part of wider updates to disclosure legislation being rolled out by Disclosure Scotland. Up to 8,000 additional staff now require to become a PVG Scheme member, with an application deadline of 30th of June.

The APF welcomed plans to scale up communications to all staff. A number of 30-minute webinars have been planned for line managers are running throughout April and May. These sessions provide an overview of the changes being made to the PVG Scheme and to allow line managers to ask any additional questions. Each of the webinars will contain the same information, therefore line managers only need to attend one of the sessions. Although the webinar sessions will be aimed at line managers, all staff are welcome to attend.

You can register to attend one of the information webinars on HR Connect. A copy of the slides used within the webinar can also be accessed and reviewed.

You can read more about the PVG changes on the Disclosure Scotland website or on the NHSGGC website.

Financial update

A month 11 financial update was provided to the APF, which has outlined a financial breakeven for the year. The Forum recognised the great efforts across the organisation to help achieve this. Draft priorities for 2025/2026 were outlined to the APF, and members noted the plan is yet to be approved through the Corporate Management Team. A commitment to working in partnership was reaffirmed and an additional request for a strategic review in partnership was noted.

Acute Services - North Sector Awards

The Acute Services - North Sector Excellence Awards 2024/2025 were held at the GRI, and there was terrific attendance to celebrate the achievements and efforts of colleagues.

Be Phishing and Vishing Aware!

Phishing and Vishing are forms of social engineering, a technique used to gain access to private information, often via email. It can cause a huge amount of damage, disruption and distress. To help prevent social engineering attacks at NHSGGC and at home, remember N.E.T.

NHS
Greater Glasgow and Clyde

No Trust
Verify, via alternative means, the identity of those sending unexpected messages, even if the contacts are known to you.

Educate Yourself
Complete the Security and Threat module on LearnPro. Check online sources to see if emails, SMS messages or other forms of social engineering attacks are known or commonplace. Remember, educating yourself can protect you in both your work and personal life.

Think First
Successful attacks generally require a sense of urgency. Stop! Take a moment to reflect and investigate, this can show these attacks for what they are.

Managing technology and data safely and securely is everyone's responsibility throughout NHSGGC.
