iMatter 2024: Coming soon!

The next iMatter questionnaire will be launched in three cohorts, with the first cohort beginning on 13 May. Please visit the iMatter page on HR Connect, to find out when iMatter will launch in your Directorate or Health and Social Care Partnership.

The iMatter questionnaire, and importantly the collaborative action planning discussions that follow, provide a platform to share thoughts on your experience at work, and drive forward activity where there are opportunities for improvement.

Ann Cameron-Burns, Employee Director, said: “Your feedback matters at NHSGGC. It enables us to work in partnership to identify areas of strength and areas where we can improve. It guides our decision-making processes and helps us implement initiatives as a result of your feedback.

“So, I encourage everyone to take advantage of the opportunity to share your feedback honestly and constructively through iMatter. Your input will shape future activity to create a workplace where everyone feels valued, heard and empowered.”

As we continue to strive to create a better workplace, we want to remind you of the positive impact your feedback can have. Your insights, experiences, and perspectives are essential in driving positive change and fostering an environment where everyone can thrive.

Check out the 2023 iMatter Board Action plan to see how your feedback is helping shape activity.
