

#StartTheConversation

April 2024

We are delighted to announce that, from April 2024 our Future Care Planning work will now have a permanent home within a new programme called “HomeFirst”.

We know the best place for people to receive care is within their community, either in their own home or within a homely setting. That is why this programme will seek to identify ways to support individuals to stay safe and well in their home environment for as long as possible by:

- promoting ageing well
- developing prevention and early intervention approaches to push back deterioration
- promoting and building connections to their local communities and social networks
- encouraging planning ahead to make sure their wishes and preference are known to everyone
- supporting family, friends and neighbours who are often providing informal care which helps people remain at home

We are excited to see what the future will hold and look forward to continuing to work with everyone - with your help we can continue to #StartTheConversation with everyone!

New name, same great tweets!

We are still on twitter (X) but our account is now @NHSGGC_FCP to reflect the fact that we are talking about Future Care Planning - make sure to follow!

Shining a light on death, dying and bereavement

DEMYSTIFYING DEATH WEEK

6 - 12 MAY 2024

COMING SOON

We are bringing you another week full of interesting talks to help bust taboos and learn more about different aspects of death, dying and bereavement.

Make sure you are on our mailing list and following us on Twitter (X) to be the first to hear about our programme!

And don't forget to look out for events happening across the rest of Scotland too!

Trigger for ACP

Over the past year we have been looking at all the Future Care Plans we have on our system and trying to establish how much useful information they contain. We have been conducting regular audits and are thrilled to see how well the plans are being filled out. There is still room for improvement but it is great to know that these plans can help everyone make the right decision at the right time!
