

This document confirms the proof of identification you will need to supply to gain access to your own or another person's health records.

- If you are applying to access your own health records, you require one form of identification from both sections A and B.
- If you are applying to access someone else's health records and the patient is under 12 years old or the person does not have the mental capacity to manage their affairs, you require one form of identification each from sections A, B and C.
- If you are an organisation requesting access on behalf of a patient, you require a consent form as confirmed in section D.
- If you are a police force requesting access on behalf of a patient, you require both documents in section D, unless the patient is unable to sign the consent form.
- If you are applying to access a deceased patient's health records, you will need to provide identification documents for yourself as confirmed in section A and B. You can also supply documents from column E if you are a representative of the deceased. You can also make a request if you have a claim arising from the patient's death.

By making this application you confirm the information given is correct and that you are entitled to apply for access under the terms of the Data Protection Act 2018, General Data Protection Regulations (UK). You are also confirming that you understand that it is necessary to confirm your identity and it may be necessary to obtain more detailed information in order to locate the correct personal data.
