

Moving Forward Together From Blueprint to Action Stakeholder Reference Group Update October 2019

Moving Forward Together. Welcome

Today:

- Update on the implementation of the Moving Forward Together Programme
 - Describe the clinical and service priorities emerging that are beginning to shape how we will transform health and social care services in Greater Glasgow and Clyde
- Discuss how we might communicate and engage with people about the Programme
 - How can we illustrate and describe the 'bigger picture' of whole system change via the current and future priority projects that emerge from the Programme set against the challenges we face?

Reminder: A blueprint for future delivery models Then

Approved by NHSGGC Board and noted by the six Integration Joint Boards mid-late 2018

- Set the strategic direction of travel for the next 10 years to meet future needs of the whole population
- Aligned with West of Scotland and Scottish Government strategy and plans

Now

How to turn the concepts and ideas for new ways of working into operational service delivery models within the current health and social care system

Reminder: The key principles

- 1. Delivering care at home or in local community
- 2. Supporting people to mange their own conditions
- 3. Reducing our dependency on inpatient beds
- 4. Maximising the benefits of technology
- 5. Involving people and carers in decisions about their care
 - 6. Listening to staff who work in services

Moving Forward Together. Opportunities to work differently

A key principle of Moving Forward Together was to explore, develop and exploit opportunities to work differently:

The Trauma Network Model will allow us to locate dependent specialties around the Major Trauma Centre and Trauma Units

We can develop elective centres of excellence delivering high volume activity not affected by trauma

We can work with neighbouring Health Boards to dovetail our transformational work

We can develop cross-system solutions through MFT workstreams, building on earlier clinical engagement

We will maximise the opportunities offered by new technology

2	Community Intensive Supports Testing emerging models of care	Shorter length of stay in hospital for older people and maximising independence
3	Dementia Framework Examining new approaches and tests of change in Inverclyde	More services delivered in communities and closer to people's homes

Moving Forward Together. Next steps for public involvement

Aim: Deliver a comprehensive programme of public involvement to engage with people about Moving Forward Together

What we heard from during the first phase of engagement

- To be kept involved and for the Programme to illustrate and describe to people the;
 - ongoing transformation of health and social care services and;
 - how these are aligned with the vision and principles set out in Moving Forward Together
