1. Introduction

NHSGGC requires a robust framework for the development, approval and management of policies and other associated documents in line with the approach to Active Governance. This framework aims to ensure that:

- There is a consistent and clear approach to policy development, consultation, approval, dissemination/communication, access to documents and review
- NHSGGC complies with relevant legislation, governance, audit and controls assurance requirements
- Policy processes are appropriate for new organisational arrangements and single system working
- The impact of policies is fully assessed and understood
- Policies in use are current, relevant, up to date, have clear ownership, and formal approval, including agreement with Staff Partnership where necessary
- NHSGGC meets its commitment to embed an equalities approach into all our functions.

2. Scope

This Framework applies to all NHSGGC staff in all locations. It sets out the route to be followed when developing or updating policies, both clinical and non-clinical, and introducing these within the organisation.

The Framework also extends to procedures and guidelines that act as implementation tools for policies and are contained within their appendices.

The Framework does not apply to stand-alone procedures and guidelines that are governed within existing specialist frameworks e.g. NHSGGC Clinical Guidelines Framework, NHSGGC Health and Safety Guidelines and Briefing Notes. Nor does this Framework apply to Once for Scotland National Workforce Policies: NHS Workforce Policies | NHS Scotland.

The following broad definitions are applied:

Policy

- A policy is a guiding principle used to set direction in an organisation. It can be a course of action to guide and influence decisions.
- It should be used as a guide to decision making under a given set of circumstances within the framework of objectives, goals and management philosophies as determined by senior management.
- Policies are usually general statements about aims, intentions or an approach to a particular issue, which summarises an organisation's position on an issue, and is presented as a statement of intent or a plan of action.

Procedure

- A procedure is a standardised series of actions taken to achieve a task so that everyone undertakes it in an agreed and consistent way to achieve a safe, effective outcome.

Guidelines (Clinical and Non-clinical)

- Clinical guidelines are evidence-based statement (or series of statements) used to assist clinicians in the decision-making process about appropriate treatment and care in specific circumstances. For further information please refer to: Clinical Guideline Toolkit \(nhsggc.org.uk\)
- Non-clinical guidelines provide standards and principles to assist staff in demonstrating actions and behaviours that are consistent with a particular policy.

3. Policy Development Principles

All Board policies must meet the following principles and standards:

-  Is aligned to NHSGGC Values and Objectives
-  Is evidence-based
-  Has a clear rationale. The reasons for having a specific policy should be clearly articulated
-  Is based on robust information about the affected group of staff or patients and the likely impact
-  Is clear about its scope
-  Meets the requirements set out in this Policy Development Framework in relation to consultation and engagement, working with Staff Partnership, impact assessment, format and style, approval pathways, communication and dissemination, and review.

Policies should only be developed with prior approval from the relevant Director or Approval Body.

Policy Leads will be expected to examine the existing policy landscape and provide assurance of the absence of duplication.

Where there is potential overlap in content, the Policy Lead will be required to liaise with other relevant policy leads to ensure coherence.

Policy Leads should also pay cognisance to complementary policies in their particular area of business in order to promote a wider suite of policies within their published document as necessary.

5. Consultation and Engagement

Policy Leads must identify and involve all relevant stakeholders, both affected by the policy, and responsible for its implementation, appropriately and proportionately. It will be particularly important for policy leads to engage with Staff Partnership and HR at the outset should the policy have implications for staffing, the operating environment or working practices.

Policy Leads must also ensure that any statutory requirements for public involvement are complied with where required and should consult Planning with People: Community Engagement and Participation Guidance. Consideration should be given to the need for formal public consultation where a significant change to services is proposed, with the considerations and process for this set out within the guidance.

6. Impact Assessment

Impact assessment is an integral part of the process of developing policy. As a minimum, all policies must consider the following:

- Cost implications
- Workforce and staff requirements
- Service delivery implications
- Risk (Operating, Legal, Financial/Commercial, Clinical, People/Workforce, Reputational)
- Impact on environment and sustainability
- Equalities impact (mandatory).

Finance and Workforce Impacts

Advice should be sought from Finance and HR where required regarding cost and workforce implications.

Assessing Risk

Policy Leads are required to complete the Policy Development Risk Assessment Tool, available from Corporate Risk Management (scot.nhs.uk) in order to inform their policy development or review. The tool is designed to assist the lead in articulating the risk management impacts of any new policy development, including:

- Detailing any risks that may emerge as a by-product of this new policy
- Planned actions to mitigate those risks
- The extent to which the new policy supports the mitigation of existing Corporate risks.

And, if relevant:

- The risk to the organisation were this policy to be withdrawn and not replaced.

Guidance on completing the risk assessment tool is also available via the link above. Completed assessments should be submitted along with the Assurance Checklist in Appendix 1.

Climate Change and Sustainability

NHSGGC is committed to tackling the climate change and sustainability challenge in meeting Net Zero targets by 2040. The 17 United Nations Sustainability Goals (THE 17 GOALS | Sustainable Development (un.org)) are a core part of the Scottish Government's National Performance Framework and a measurable KPI for NHS Scotland Chief Executives.

Policy Leads should ensure that Sustainability and Environmental Social Governance (ESG) considerations are holistically integrated into policy development in order to support a strong sustainability culture within the organisation:

Environment

Negative and positive impacts a policy and its respective area of operations will have on the natural environment and what controls will be put in place to mitigate the impacts.

Social

Consider elements that can affect societal wellbeing for patients, staff and visitors and if this can be improved.

Economic

Improve financial performance through economic sustainability. Examples include: recycling and/or re-using valuable materials to lower operating costs and reduce the intensity of resource consumption.

Policy Leads should contact the NHSGGC Sustainability Team on Sustainability.Team@ggc.scot.nhs.uk for further advice and assistance as required.

Equalities

Equality Impact Assessment (EQIA) is a legal requirement under the Public Sector Equality Duty for policy development or review. Policy Leads must complete an EQIA to ensure policies:

- Eliminate unlawful discrimination, harassment and Victimisation
- Advance equality of opportunity between groups of people with different protected characteristics
- Foster good relations between different protected characteristic groups.

Ahead of undertaking an EQIA, Policy Leads should contact the Equality and Human Rights Team at Equality@ggc.scot.nhs.uk. The team will issue a copy of the NHSGGC screening tool, arrange an introductory session to explain the process, provide a quality assurance service for completed assessments, and will arrange EQIA publication on the NHSGGC website (also a legal requirement).

An Assurance Checklist, to ensure all of the requirements set out in Sections 4 – 6 of this Policy have been considered, is provided at Appendix 1. The completed checklist should be made available to the relevant Approval Body when presenting the policy, along with the separate EQIA and Risk Assessment Tool.

A Policy cannot be presented to an Approval Body without a fully completed Assurance Checklist and associated assessments.

7. Format

Policies should be in a standard format which meets disability access standards, in accordance with the template at Appendix 2. Drafts should clearly state version number.

All policies should be in Arial font with a preferred font size 12 (14 where practical). Type should be justified on the left. All sentences should be in lower case. Policies should be printed in a black font on a plain background.

Policies should clearly state the following:

-  Policy Lead
-  Responsible Director
-  Date of approval
-  Approving body
-  Date for review.

Consideration should be given to the expected audience for the policy and the level of understanding of technical terms. Policies should be written in plain English avoiding the use of jargon where possible and with acronyms set out in full.

Where the policy will be published or made available externally, it should include a clear statement on how alternative formats (e.g. alternative languages, large print, audio CD) can be requested, including contact details, in line with the Board's Accessible Information Policy.

Electronic versions of policies, including those placed on the intranet, should be in PDF files where possible or read-only files to prevent alteration.

8. Approval Pathway

In determining the appropriate approval pathway, Policy Leads and their Directors must consider whether:

- The Policy is applicable across some, several or all Board specialities or functions
- The NHSGGC Scheme of Delegation specifies an expected approval route for the relevant business area
- There are significant new cost implications beyond a single Board speciality or function
- There are significant new service implications beyond a single Board speciality or function.

Policy Leads should consult with their Director to identify the most appropriate approval route, whether this be at management, committee or full Board level as deemed necessary. Consideration must also be given for the need to seek approval from Staff Partnership as part of the approval route.

The identified Approving Body may in turn request for the Policy to be approved at a higher or even lower tier in the governance structure if it deems this appropriate, whilst the full Board may use its discretion and elect to call in certain policies for approval given their potential financial, reputational or political implications.

It will be important for the approval pathway, once fully determined, to be captured in the NHSGGC Policy Document Management System (see Section 9).

The Policy Development and Review Cycle is included in Appendix 3.

9. Communication, Dissemination and Implementation

Following approval by the appropriate Approval Body, the Policy Lead should:

- Ensure that the policy is available on the most appropriate section of the NHSGGC website and that existing versions/links are removed. Policy Leads should contact the Board's Communication function for support as required.
- Take responsibility for communicating the policy to the relevant groups of staff, ensuring that those without access to the network can access paper copies as necessary.
- Ensure that key information about the Policy - document location, ownership, version number, review date, approval pathway and other key classifications is shared with Corporate Services to update the NHSGGC Policy Management System.

The Policy Lead will be responsible for the implementation of the policy, including timescales for roll-out, training, ongoing communication and review.

10. Review

All policies should be reviewed every three years as a minimum, or sooner if there is a specific legislative or service requirement or change in guidance, law or practice.

Reviews should take account of:

- The effectiveness of the current policy
- Changes to organisational and national policy and context
- The ongoing requirement for the policy.

In considering the effectiveness of the policy, Policy Leads should:

- Ensure that objectives, outcomes, inputs, processes, impacts and implementation are monitored, and be clear about the purpose and goals
- Establish what will be monitored and why. If the policy structure is clear, and the provisions are focused, monitoring will be more manageable
- Monitor the objectives of the policy within a continuous cycle of review to ensure the highest quality provision for all patients and staff.

A guide to undertaking policy evaluation is available from the Scottish Government: Evaluation for policy makers - A straightforward guide - gov.scot (www.gov.scot)

Policy Leads should share the findings of their review with the Approval Body as per the Assurance Checklist in Appendix 1.

11. Implementation of the Policy Development Framework

This document will be made available on the NHSGGC website and widely circulated to Directors, Senior Managers and the Approval Bodies listed in Section 8.

This framework will be reviewed three years from the date of approval.
